

From an Old Friend

Does some old person include you in their thoughts each Christmas season?

Some old soul who thinks well of you, but who is gradually passing out of your thoughts in your new associations? Perhaps some old gentleman or lady who admired you as a child.

What cheer it would bring into their lives for such an old-time friend to be remembered by you with a gift.

More than any other one thing, most old folks want renewed vigor and strength. It means life to them, and the enjoyment of life. They want mental and physical activity to enjoy advancing years.

A few bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, you will see, is one of the most practical gifts you could select, if you give the subject a moment's thought. It is something that will do them good as well as please them.

Nothing will give all this to the aged like

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

It stimulates and nourishes body, brain and muscle. It sharpens the appetite, improves digestion and enables the aged to get full nourishment from their food, thus increasing their strength. Taken as directed, it prevents coughs, colds, grip and pneumonia, and all throat and lung troubles.

Be sure to send the genuine—Duffy's. You can get a bottle, six bottles, or a case, at drug stores, grocers and dealers, at $1.00 a bottle. They will be glad to pack for shipping.

THE DUFFY MALT WHISKEY CO., Rochester, N. Y.

Court, Part 2, will convene to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, with Judge Ernest H. Wells in attendance. The civil docket, containing many cases of importance, will be set. Several large damage suits, continued from last term, will also be heard.

The criminal side will be the first taken up. Commonwealth's Attorney Charles L. Page will make four presentations to the grand jury. Indictments will be asked for Ed. Pegram, colored, accused of breaking and entering; Ralph White, charged with the same offense; James Proyer, charged with feloniously shooting Charles White, and B. P. Sale, the young white man sent on from Police Court, Part 2, last week for forgery. The appeal case of the Commonwealth against G. R. Womack will also be tried at this term.

The personal injury suit of Zack Valaski against the Virginia Railway and Power Company, which was scheduled for a hearing in Hustings Court, Part 2, yesterday, was continued by Judge Wells, on account of the case being too long to be completed in one day. The November term came to a close yesterday. It would have been impossible to have finished the hearing without postponing the opening of the new term. Thirty witnesses had been summoned.

MOVE A. C. L. STATION

Falling Creek Freight Yards Will Be Ready in Spring.

For the purpose of making room for the freight yard, now under construction and which will be completed by early spring, the A. C. L. Railway Company is moving its station at Falling Creek, Chesterfield County, to a point 300 yards from the present site. Among the other improvements being made at this point is the erection of a switch tower, from which a thirty-six-foot interlocking plant will govern the yard tracks.

The Atlantic Coast Line has been quietly at work for nearly a year laying tracks connecting the Belt Line Bridge with the main line at Falling Creek. When this line is completed and the yards ready for occupancy all traffic now being switched to the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad at Clifton will be handled at Falling Creek. The new Belt Line grades are lighter than the old line, and will greatly facilitate the handling of heavy traffic.

Supervisors Meet To-Morrow

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, at Chesterfield Courthouse. Routine business will be transacted.

An effort is on foot to have the supervisors reconsider the resolution by which the hunting season was prematurely closed. It is contended by many hunters that owing to the dry weather at the opening of the season, the dogs were unable to trail, just as the ground became moistened and before any game had been killed, the season was brought to a close. It is also said that immense coveys of birds have not yet left the thickets.

Toney Purchases Lubin Theatre

D. I. Toney, one of the prominent business men on the Southside, has acquired an interest in the Lubin Theatre, and will take possession to-morrow morning. He will continue the theatre as a vaudeville house under his personal supervision.

Mr. Toney, who was widely known as a prosperous merchant, embarked into the theatrical field three years ago, having purchased the Theatre, at Fifth and Broad Streets.

After two seasons of vaudeville, the policy of the house has changed, and it is now used entirely for motion pictures. Mr. Toney is also owner of the Pastime Photoplay Theatre, on Hull Street, which he purchased recently from Foulkes & Baltimore.

Committee to Select Index System

Under authority of an act of the Legislature, passed at the last session, Judge Ernest H. Wells yesterday appointed a committee composed of Walter E. DuVal, Charles L. Page and Willis C. Pulliam, to investigate and report to the court their findings on a suitable system of general indexing for the deed books in the clerk's office of Hustings Court, Part 2. The system now in use is regarded as obsolete and cumbersome. It will be replaced by the best obtainable. The cost will be borne by the city.

To Open Annexation Fight

The opening gun in the fight for the expansion of the boundaries of the city will be fired Tuesday night, when Thomas P. Bryan, secretary of the annexation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Business Manager W. T. Dabney, of the chamber, will address a mass-meeting of the citizens of Woodland Heights, Forest Hill, Swansboro and Oak Grove, in the Woodland Heights Baptist Church. The meeting will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

It is understood that the suburbanites will welcome annexation. They have often expressed an extension of the gas and water mains, the latter being necessary.

Fair Association Meets

The Chesterfield County Fair Association met yesterday morning at the courthouse in Washington Square for the purpose of reviewing the work of the past year and to lay plans for a greater fair for next year. While every member thought the county had surpassed itself in 1912, they will not be content to rest on their laurels, but will make the fair of 1913 a banner one. Additional features will be added and others bettered. Among those present were Major Howard Swineford, Senator John B. Watkins, Delegate W. W. Baker, Dr. L. A. Sims, County Treasurer D. M. Walker, Supervisors L. H. Rhodes and W. A. Horner and former Supervisor Thomas E. Woodfin. The next meeting will be held subject to call.

Trainmen to Install Officers

Installation of recently elected officers will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Mother State Lodge, No. 634, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at the meeting to be held in Fraternal Hall. The new officers are C. M. Booth, president; L. J. Laws, president; W. O. Bass, vice-president; L. O. Irons, secretary; W. J. Jones, treasurer; W. V. Moles, conductor; J. M. Lavar, warden; R. J. Crostic, guard; H. M. Thomas, agent for other matters; C. M. Booth, delegate to the annual convention, which will meet in May, 1913, in San Francisco.

Owing to the serious condition of Ashburn Trainman, who was injured about ten days ago in a salar brawl, the cases of nine molders, alleged to have been participants in the fray, and charged by C. M. Powell, owner of the saloon, with disorderly conduct, were continued until Monday, December 22. Trainman's testimony is needed to complete the case against the men.

Tony Azzurro, accused by his wife in a warrant with cursing and abusing her, was yesterday fined $5 and costs by Justice H. A. Maurice in Police Court, Part II.

With Southside Police

On a charge of threatening to strike Lottie House, the complainant, Valentine Rickett, fifty years old, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Baughman. He was bailed for appearance in Police Court, Part II, to-morrow morning.

Charles Weidridge, colored, who has been the object of search by the Southside police for several weeks, last night surrendered himself at the Third Station. He is charged in a warrant with disorderly conduct on the night of November 30.

Find Stolen Automobile

An automobile which was stolen last Sunday night from the owner, R. L. Brannon, of Richmond, was recovered yesterday morning by Officer W. E. Wayman in an alley in the rear of 1508 Hull Street. The machine was in the possession of Howard Fortune, who found the deserted car early yesterday morning near Holly Springs, in Chesterfield County, and brought it to this city. He notified the police that he was holding the car for its owner. They immediately sent for it and had it driven to the City Hall, where it was turned over to Major Louis Werner.

Gives Arguments in Pamphlet

In an eight-page pamphlet, just off the press, the Chester Business League and the Ettrick Improvement League set forth the reasons why, in the opinion of the citizens, the county seat of Chesterfield County should be changed from its present location to a more convenient place. Incidentally, all arguments of the Chesterfield Conservative Association, which was organized to oppose moving the courthouse, are answered. Each voter in the county will receive a copy by mail.

Announce Daughter's Engagement

Invitations to the approaching marriage of their daughter Miss Beulah Lee Layne, to Robert Gray Bell, have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Jones, of 2007 Edwards Avenue, Oak Grove. The event will be celebrated Tuesday morning, December 24, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride-elect.

Will Preach To-Day

Rev. H. W. Williams, of Georgia, will conduct both services to-day in the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church. A large attendance is expected.

The pulpit of this church, which was made vacant by the resignation of Rev. J. W. Durham, who accepted a call to Roanoke, will be filled shortly. A committee which has the selection of a pastor in hand is about ready to issue a call.

Accepts Resignation of Fireman

The resignation of Clarence C. Wright as a member of Engine Company No. 12 was accepted yesterday by the Board of Fire Commissioners. It is effective to-morrow morning at 7 o'clock.

The findings of Chief William G. Joyner regarding the rumored dissension in the ranks of the Southside company were made to the board. According to his report, they were without foundation, and he says that complete harmony now reigns among the members of the department.

At the Central Methodist Church, at the Central Methodist Church, Rev. Henry C. Pfeiffer, the pastor, will preach at both services to-day. His morning subject will be "Cornelius Memorial." At night he will discuss "Eve's Excuse." Sunday school will be held at 9:15 A. M. A welcome to all.

GINTER PARK TRIES ROUSSEAU'S PLAN

An experiment in democracy—that describes the election plan that the Ginter Park Citizens' Association will put into practice next Tuesday night. It all has to do with the selection of a Mayor and six Councilmen to pilot the municipality, which was granted a charter recently by Judge R. Carter, of the Henrico County Circuit Court.

In order to secure an accurate expression of the public will, the association has decided to dispense with pre-election formalities like registration and qualification, and will convene all citizens of Ginter Park more than twenty-one years old, whether male or female, at a mass-meeting in the Ginter Park School at 8:15 o'clock. These will form a popular assembly built on orthodox Rousseauian lines, which will proceed, by secret ballot, to choose the municipal officers.

Voting will continue until the required number of candidates have a clear majority. Only qualified voters of Ginter Park will be eligible for office, no canvassing for votes will be countenanced, and there will be no nominations. By eliminating nominations and allowing all residents to vote whether legally qualified to cast a ballot or not, the Citizens' Association expects to secure an accurate expression of the will of the majority.

Ginter Park, as recently incorporated, contains 118 registered voters. Probably as many more have their residence in the suburb who have not lived there long enough to qualify as voters. These as well as all women who will have courage enough to admit that they are twenty-one will be given an opportunity to register their choice. The candidates named by the assembly will be placed on the official ballot at the election on January 11.

and, it is understood, will have no opposition. At the election proper, of course, only those qualified will be able to vote.
